ARE YOU ONLINE?

For some of us, the WORLD WIDE WEB can be quite overwhelming; when someone mentions domains, HTML, JAVA, URL and cookies it sounds more like a NASA convention than basic website terminology!

Here is a list of reasons why you should consider developing a website for your company.

Gives you a professional appearance

Having a website is a good boost for your image. However, having a poorly developed web site can actually do more harm than good. You need to make sure that your site is professional enough to portray yourself or your business.

Open 24/7!

With a web site, you are essentially open for business 24/7. If your company is online, there really could not be a bigger benefit. You can accept enquiries on weekends, holidays, and at any hour of the day.

Exposure

Unlike magazine or newspaper ads that may run for a week, your web site can be used as a promotional tool 365 days a year. This is especially true if you have your web site marketed to display in search results.

Convenience

It is rather convenient to have a website. Customers almost expect this of you, and if you don't have a web site chances are you won't be taken as seriously. It is also rather easy to update your web site, versus making changes to brochures which require reprinting and sending.

Expanded Marketplace

Your website could expose your business to someone in another state, not just within your community. This is where true profits can be made.

It's slowly becoming accepted that a reputable business must have a website. However, in a society where time and money are both hard to come by this seems easier said than done. MelcoLanham's have decided to make building your own website simple & affordable for you, simply call your sales representative for more information.

We've already started helping one of our customers.

Check out www.grantmartyn.com.au to see how simple & effective it really is.

Timber Treatment HAZARD Levels

With the myriad of treated timber products available in today's market, and the unique "brand names" and "treatment types" the suppliers are using such as T2, T3, B2, Framesure Blue, Termisure, Terminator, CCA, Tanalised B, Tanalised Azure, Copper Azole, LOSP, to name a few, one could be excused for asking what does it all mean???

To sort through the minefield of "brand names", and "treatment types" it is easiest to match the HAZARD level of the product in question to the application required. Treatment Hazard levels are standardised throughout Australia and each of the treatment "types" named above will have a HAZARD level rating, and will fall into one of the following six categories.

So for your next project, be sure to nominate the HAZARD level of the product required to ensure it will perform to the level you expect in the application it will be used in.

H1 INSIDE, ABOVE GROUND, DRY

Insect borer (other than termites) hazard.
Framing, flooring, furniture etc.

H2 INSIDE, ABOVE GROUND, DRY

Insect borer and termite hazard.
Framing, flooring, trusses.

H2F INSIDE, ABOVE GROUND, DRY

FOR USE SOUTH OF THE TROPIC OF CAPRICORN ONLY
Insect borer and termite hazard.
Framing, flooring, trusses.

H3 OUTSIDE, ABOVE GROUND

Moderate fungal decay and termite hazard.
Decking, fencing, cladding, fascia, window joinery, exterior structural timber.

H4 OUTSIDE, IN GROUND

High fungal decay and termite hazard.
Fencing, greenhouses, pergolas, non-structural and landscaping timbers.

H5 OUTSIDE, IN GROUND OR FRESH WATER

High fungal decay and termite hazard.
Engineered retaining walls, building poles, pilings and cooling tower fill, structural or critical applications.

H6 MARINE WATER EXPOSURE

Marine borers hazard. Marine piles, jetty crossbracing, landing steps, sea walls.

CONGRATULATIONS!

For those of you who don't know Tony, simply fail to pay your account and you will be receiving a 'friendly' phone call to refresh your memory!

On a serious note, Tony Williams has been a loyal employee and has held various financial positions over the past 20 years from Commercial Manager; to his current role as our Group Credit Manager. Tony has witnessed the company grow from just 5 staff members in 1988 to approx 230 spread across our six branches since the merger in March 2008.

Tony is a true coast local, born in Maleny & attending primary school at Tewantin & continuing onto high school at Cooroy. He is also a long standing member & social player of the Noosa Bowls Club.

On behalf of management at MelcoLanhams, we'd like to take this opportunity to congratulate Tony Williams on his 20th year with the company.

music please maestro

Here in our midst at Kunda Park we have a virtuoso namely Clint Francis. Clint works for us 4 days a week from Tuesday to Friday. It is always a pleasure to walk through the shed and hear Clint singing away at the top of his lungs whilst he works.

Clint is the lead singer for a 4 part band called Clint Francis Band & also a duo Soul Temptations who perform at venues all around the Coast including Cafe Le Monde & various surf clubs. His international appearances have included corporate shows in Hong Kong and residencies at the Tokyo Hilton, Japan.

If you are looking for some excellent music for your next function you can call Clint on 0419 957397.
